Li Liang is responsible for research, product design, strategy innovation, and portfolio optimization in collaboration with the Investment and Research teams of Research Affiliates. Research Affiliates is a global leader in smart beta, factor investing, and asset allocation. The firm creates investment strategies and tools based on award-winning research and delivers these solutions in partnership with some of the world's premier financial institutions.

Prior to joining Research Affiliates, Li was a portfolio manager at WorldQuant managing their global long-short systematic active equity strategies. Before that, he was a quantitative strategist at Bank of America Merrill Lynch, where he specialized in equity derivatives.

Li received a BS and MS in computer science from City University of Hong Kong and a Master in Computation for Design and Optimization from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
